

SIENA PRELUDE PROGRAM

Siena Prelude is an engaging after-school music program for Year 6 students who are commencing Year 7 at Siena College the following year.

The program gives incoming students an opportunity to try something new, experience the joy of collective music-making, and get a head start on their cocurricular music journeys at Siena. Siena Prelude also provides a setting for students to meet teachers and peers, make friends, become familiar with their new school environment, and to prepare for their transition to secondary school with greater confidence and excitement.

Siena Prelude consists of four weekly sessions, held after school on Wednesdays in the Siena Music Department. During each session, students will break away into groups to receive lessons from our wonderful instrumental tutors. They then come together to rehearse as a large ensemble. This combination of instrumental lesson and ensemble rehearsal is fundamental to the way we approach music tuition at Siena, and it gives students a taste of what to expect if they participate in our junior music program.

The program culminates with all students making their debut ensemble performance at the Year 7 Welcome Evening in November. It is amazing what students can achieve in a short time!
